

AquaSol, a software for biological applications of electrostatics calculations that go beyond classical Poisson-Boltzmann "

Marc DELARUE
Institut Pasteur, France

The principles behind AquaSol, the numerical implementation and the principal options when running AquaSol software will be reviewed.

Some applications using examples from the lab will be discussed.

Finally, possible extensions will be presented.